Nesta Parchment - Independent project

This is a simple web app that will track cryptocurrency prices. Similar to coinmarketcap.com. I will consist of react-strap, therefore utilizing card components and the use of a cryptocurrency API if possible.

The structure will be a simple layout with a logo on the type left or perhaps center. In addition a search feature will be added for a users convenience. Color scheme will be unknown at the moment but leading towards cyan and dark gray. It will be mobile friendly and possibly transfer into the react-native course. A sample is below. Thank you
